Our printed periodical, "Innovation into Success", is circulated to all our member parks and their tenants and it contains details of the activities of park tenants across a wide variety of technologies. It also features many technology support services, finance initiatives and advice on managing intellectual property, as well as having the latest news on government initiatives.

We hope that you find articles within the magazine of interest to you and your business.

You have been sent this email as a company involved in science and innovation or as an organisation interested in activities on science parks. If you do not wish to receive further copies please unsubscribe here.
